RATTLE AND HUM

Dear Friends,

Happy St. Patrick's Day Weekend!

Tonight's performance has been a labor of love for the show's student directors and me. It is filled with exciting, fun-loving, passionate, and, at times, heart-wrenching music from the most significant Irish rock and Irish rock-influenced bands.

This evening, our hard-working and talented students will bring to life the legacy of rock icons such as U2, Van Morrison, The Cranberries, Thin Lizzy, Sinéad O'Connor, Hozier, Flogging Molly and more. Their dedication and passion for learning the music, getting it right, and their love of performing together make this group a joy to work with, and I hope for you a joy to hear and to watch perform.

Preparing for tonight's show has been a journey of discovery for our students. Their commitment to excellence and eagerness to connect with the music and its history are inspiring. This work ethic and buy-in have been a hallmark of UMC students for the 20+ years and 80+ performances like this that we have presented. Training them and working with them almost daily, usually over many years, forging deep ties between all of us, leading to some of the most fulfilling experiences of my life.

Tonight's student directors, Gabreon Godin, Brendan Kuriga, Carter Rodgers, and the SPG1 Leadership team, have worked tirelessly to ensure that tonight's performance honors the greats of Irish rock and showcases our students' incredible talent and potential. Their creativity and dedication have been key in bringing this vision to life, crafting an experience that celebrates the history of Irish rock.

As we kick off this weekend, I'm excited for you to witness this performance. I hope that when you leave the theater tonight, it is with a smile on your face, a strong sense of hope for the future, and a wee desire to celebrate St. Patrick's with a bit more kick to it than usual.

Thank you for joining us, and enjoy the show!

Warmly,

Dave Brumbaugh – Founder/Executive Director,
Uptown Music Collective

Barron's bases its ratings on qualitative criteria: professionals with a minimum of seven years of financial services experience, acceptable compliance records, formal succession plans, high client retention, and more. Financial Advisors are quantitatively rated based on varying types of revenues and assets advised by the financial professional, with weightings associated for each. Because individual client portfolio performance varies and is typically unaudited, this rating focuses on customer satisfaction and quality of advice. The rating may not be representative of any one client's experience because it reflects a sample of all of the experiences of the Financial Advisor's clients. The rating is not indicative of the Financial Advisor's past or future performance. Barron's is a registered trademark of Dow Jones & Company, L.P. All rights reserved. Forbes Best-in-State Wealth Advisors (January, 2020; February, 2021; April, 2022; April, 2023) and America's Top Women Advisors (February, 2022; February, 2023) rankings were developed by SHOOK Research and is based on in-person, virtual, and telephone due diligence meetings to measure best practices, client retention, industry experience, credentials, review of compliance records, firm nominations; and quantitative criteria, such as: assets under management and revenue generated for their firms. Investment performance is not a criterion because client objectives and risk tolerances vary, and advisors rarely have audited performance reports. SHOOK's research and rankings provide opinions intended to help investors choose the right financial advisor and are not indicative of future performance or representative of any one client's experience.
